Definition

System: It is identified as a notebook or desktop system comprised of the following components: LCD panel, central processing unit (CPU), input device (such as a keyboard), a data storage device (such as disk drive), optical device (such as super multi drive), and any other components that are described specifically on your invoice or standard components (at the time of purchase) of the model of the System you purchased.

IW-System: It is identified as an Interactive Whiteboard system comprised of the following components: LCD panel, central processing unit (CPU), input device (such as a keyboard), a data storage device (such as disk drive), and any other components that are described specifically on your invoice or standard components (at the time of purchase) of the model of the IW-System you purchased.

End -User: The person who purchase the System / IW-System within Hong Kong Territory.

In-Warranty: The System / IW-System / Part(s) is within the warranty service period.

Out-Warranty: The System / IW-System is out of warranty service period.

How to Use Your Service

- 1. Call OIDI for Telephone Assistance: For service support, please contact our Customer Service Hotline at 26162531. Our office hour is Monday to Friday 09:00 to 18:00, Saturday 09:00 to 13:00 (Except public holiday).
- 2. Prepare before making the Service Call: Please prepare the following information include System / IW-System brand, model number, product number, serial number, shop and date of purchase and version of operating system before End-User makes a service call. The preparation of such information can help us to improve the efficiency of service call.
- 3. Explain Your Problem to the Technician: End-User needs to describe the existing problem of your System / IW-System to our Customer Service Officer. Information such as error message, occurrence, and the particular action or procedure to trigger the system error.
- 4. Follow the Step of Telephone Diagnosis Procedure to Solve End-User Problem: Based on our ample IT experiences, we estimate that most of System / IW-System problems and errors can be solved through telephone diagnosis service. The End-User just needs to well cooperate with our Customer Service Officer and follow every single step to solve the problem. If System / IW-System problems cannot be solved through telephone diagnosis service, Our Customer Service Officer will decide if on-site service is necessary and determine the type of on-site service is appropriate; for instance, on-site fixing problem or collect-dispatch service.

5. OIDI will ONLY arrange on-site service upon End-User HAS COMPLETED STEPS 1-4 described above.
6. On-Site Service: The detailed definition of on-site service is our OIDI on-site service technician to visit your location to repair and/or replace part(s) for End-User's System / IW-System unit. The condition of on-site service is based on Limited Hardware Warranty that End-User must go through telephone Diagnosis. In case of if the problem still exists and our OIDI technician identifies the problem being unable to be resolved through telephone diagnosis service, on-site service will be arranged by our telephone technician. Subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement, on-site service ("On-Site Service") is only covered within Hong Kong Island, Kowloon and New Territories. For Outlying Islands, such as Cheung Chau, Peng Chau, Lantau Island, Lamma Island, Ma Wan and Discovery Bay, End-User is required to pay an additional charge of HK$380 (System) or HK$780 (IW-System) for every single on-site service. Please provide the full address of the location of the System / IW-System to our Customer Service Officer. Upon End-User complies all the above procedures, OIDI, in most cases, could arrange our technician to provide on-site visit within three business days during 10:00 to 18:00 on Monday through Friday, excluding public holidays.
7. An End-User Must Be Present for On-site Service Call: An End-User must be present at all times during the service technician's visit. If End-User is below 18 years old, we recommend that an adult companion should stay with the End-User during entire period of on-site service.
8. Assistance You Must Provide: The On-site service technician must have full access right to the System / IW-System and (at no cost to OIDI) have enough working space and electricity. If the said requirements cannot be fulfilled, OIDI reserves the right to reject the service until the End-User is capable to provide all the above requirements.
9. If End-User wants to re-schedule the On-Site Service: If an End-User needs to re-schedule the On-Site service, End-User needs to reserve at least one business day for booking the service. Otherwise, OIDI reserves the right to decline the request of on-site service.
10. If You Miss The On-site Service Visit: If you or your authorized representative is not at the location when the service technician arrives, we regret that the service technician cannot provide service to your System / IW-System without your presence. In such case, you may be charged an additional amount of HK$500 (System) or HK$2,800 (IW-System) for the next follow-up on-site service.
11. If You Misuse The On-site Service: If the service technician determines your System problem is not related to hardware issue, you will have to pay HK$500 (System) or HK$2,800 (IW-System) for each on-site service to compensate us for misusing our on-site service. If you resist paying such charges, OIDI reserves the right to decline further on-site service without prior notice.

12. Authorization and In-Warranty Part(s) Rights: For on-site warranty service or collect & dispatch service, OIDI technician can help End-User to replace the failure part(s) during such services. Under the on-site warranty service guideline, End-User agrees to authorize OIDI technician as your service agent to collect and dispatch the System / IW-System under the condition if the System / IW-System cannot be repaired on-site; and to allow OIDI to swap the defective part(s) with substitution(s) in the event of capable to fix the System / IW-System on-site. The swap part(s) condition is one to one exchange basis, which OIDI technician has the right to collect the failure part(s) after replacement. You may incur a charge if you do not allow OIDI technician to collect the defective / non-working / unused units / in-warranty part(s) to OIDI. End-User must accept that the replaced part(s) may be reconditioned or refurbished, where permitted by the original manufacturer of the System / IW-System that the part(s) replacement is based on as same specification as original failure part(s), which may not be the same brand or model of the original defective part(s).

13. Collect and dispatch service: If the service technician cannot fix your System / IW-System during On-Site Service, End-User authorizes OIDI technician to act as your service agent to delivery and return the System / IW-System to / from OIDI workshop. We would finish the repair order within three business days only if the part(s) is available. If the part(s) is unavailable, the repairing period may extend and subject to the availability of the part(s). OIDI will return the System / IW-System to End-User after repair service afterwards.

14. Service Exclusions - The scope of OIDI's on-site service policy does not include the followings:

- A. Configuration and diagnosis of the System / IW-System factory-installed operating system, or factory-installed applications for using with customer-installed applications and hardware.
- B. Configuration of any communication software, unless which is required for troubleshooting.
- C. All third parties supplied hardware, peripherals and software; including their installation and compatibility with your System / IW-System branded hardware. We are not responsible for the original manufacturer of the product(s) in providing such technical support.
- D. Invalid software and hardware configurations.
- E. Backing up and restoring customer's data.
- F. Install End-User's applications and maintenance data.
- G. Unnecessary work in OIDI's assessment.
